<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>

1) List your goals

2) Mark the goal experience as learning, leadership or citizenship.

LEARNING

What do you want to learn?

What do you plan to make?

What technical skills do you want to improve?

How large will your project get?

(i.e. I want to grow my flock to 10 ewes)

What events do you plan to attend?

(i.e. judgings, competitions, learning events)

LEADERSHIP

How will you teach/share with a person or group about what you learned in your project?

(i.e. talk, demonstration, exhibit)

Can you organize or coordinate an activity, event or meeting about your project?

Did you select and prepare materials or select presenters in teaching others about your project?

CITIZENSHIP

Through your project how can you help out in your community or serve others without compensation?

POINTERS:

- List your goals in order with learning first, then leadership, then citizenship.
- A goal may involve two or all three categories.
- As you grow with your project, more goals should be added each year.
- As you grow with your project, balance your goals between learning, leadership and citizenship.

Example: Meat Goat Project
